Preserving the Historic Road in America Conference April 22-25, 2004 in Portland, Oregon

Preserving the Historic Road in America conference offers professionals and advocates a unique opportunity to share their best practices and innovative solutions for the identification, preservation and continued use of historic roads with an audience of more than 400 professionals.

Submit a proposal... by completing the attached form and submitting it by July 1, 2003 to the address noted. Proposals are to be evaluated based on relevance of the topic, general educational value, and speaker qualifications. Notification of selection will be made by October 1, 2003.

The audience... will include new and experienced planners, engineers, landscape architects, architects, preservation consultants, public officials and local citizens, from communities across the nation, Canada and the world. Selected presentations will directly address new ideas and opportunities for each group.

A broad range of topics... will be considered, including research and documentation of historic roads and road features, methods for evaluating existing conditions, design options addressing accepted engineering and preservation standards, maintenance programs and technologies, strategies for assessing proposed projects, interpretation programs and exhibits, and liability concerns. In addition, any presentation related to specific types of roads, such as parkways, scenic byways, village main streets, regional routes or traditional corridors will also be considered. Sessions highlighting innovative solutions to common challenges as well as creative responses to unique or emergency situations also are welcome.

Educational session formats... will be 90 minutes and adequate time for a question and answer period is encouraged. Presentations, when appropriate, need to be well illustrated with both historic images and images of current activity, including innovative restoration/constructive processes. Proposals selected for presentation will require the submission of a formal paper for inclusion in the conference proceedings. Therefore, each SELECTED speaker will be required to submit a written paper*, that complements the oral presentation. Accepted paper topics and selected speakers are going to be announced, in October 2003. The planning staff reserves the right to combine sessions and limit the time provided to any given speaker.

Benefits of presenting... gain visibility among industry professionals, increase your role as a leader in your profession. Receive a complimentary one-day registration or a special full conference registration rate. Travel and lodging are the responsibility of the presenter.

Evaluation Criteria and Process... proposals are reviewed by conference program committees. Evaluation criteria include: 1) clarity, quality and organization of ideas; 2) speaker's experience/knowledge of subject; 3) concepts – useful, practical, visionary; 4) timeliness/relevance of topic; 5) potential to contribute to a well-balanced program; 6) completion of all requested information.

*Only selected presenters notified in October 2003 are required to submit a paper.
